Mission Fulfillment Indicator (MFI) 2 measures the rate of participation by community members in community service programs and services offered by Lane Community College and the impact of those services. Community service is a foundational value at Lane Community College; employees and the College strive to do what is right for and needed by the community. However, sufficient and systematic data gathering has not been a part of this integrated approach. To help provide a clearer picture of how Lane serves the community, the impacts of this service, and the sufficiency of these actions in filling Lane’s mission, community service activities have been organized into four thematic categories.

Discussion

Essential Services

As a Community College, Lane serves many high-risk populations that are often underserved by other institutions. As such, Lane leverages resources and facilities to provide basic services to support success of students and the community as a whole.

Arts and Culture

As part of the commitment to serving the diverse community of Lane County, the College provides opportunities for community members to benefit from enrichment and cultural awareness. The depth and breadth of Lane’s investment in the arts contributes to building a rich and diverse community and student experience.

Civic Education

Lifelong learning is a core value shared by Lane’s faculty, staff, and students. The belief in ongoing intellectual growth and civic awareness drives Lane’s commitment to providing accessible opportunities for continuing education to community members of all ages and abilities.

Support for Regional and Local NGOs

Lane Community College partners with a network of dedicated organizations to serve our community. These alliances allow Lane to connect students and community members in need with services that are beyond the scope of the College to provide. In addition, Lane provides facilities and services to non-profit organizations at a significant discount.

Emergency Response

During the Holiday Farm Fire in fall 2020, the College was on stand-by to temporarily house fire evacuees. College administration made a monetary donation to the Red Cross. All employee groups donated items to the Red Cross and items to employees and students who were affected by the fire. Lane Community College was also an active participant in the county's response to Covid-19. The College hosted a mobile site for Lane County Public Health and a mass clinic for child care partners in cooperation with the University of Oregon and LCPH. Since fall 2021, LCC has been staffing its vaccination clinics and has provided vaccines for employees, students, and community members.

Peer Comparison

Like other community colleges, Lane's service district includes all of Lane County. As a result, our efforts are grounded in and tailored for our specific community, and comparisons across institutions based on similar methodologies are not possible. In other words, it is not possible to provide an "apples to apples" comparison with peer institutions for MFI 3.

Lessons Learned and Next Steps

As the College and community look to the future, the College is facing a simultaneous increase in need for community service and challenges to the College's ability to meet these needs in a sustainable way as a result of the Covid-19 pandemic. These challenges increase the importance of systematic data gathering to ensure Lane's community services and programs are recognized and continue to be supported.
