Dabin's decision to attend Lane Community College was shaped by family influence and practical considerations. Both her brother and sister attended LCC, with her sister successfully transferring to the University of Oregon. She appreciates LCC's affordability and its healthcare programs, particularly after a recommendation from a friend who praised the dental hygiene program.

The program is incredibly hands-on. I'll be working with patients during both my first and second year, so it gives me real experience of working in the dental field."
