

Zoe | Transfer Student

A general studies and social science student at LCC, Zoe occupies outside-the-classroom time working in the campus Gender Equity Center, writing, and making efforts in advocacy.

Zoe exemplifies curiosity and determination as she navigates her path in higher education. Zoe loves LCC for its affordability, community, and opportunities for exploration. Her journey is fueled by a drive to invest in herself and discover her passions while contributing to the world in meaningful ways.

Invest in yourself, and if you don't know who you are yet, invest in learning about yourself. It's not the end-all, be-all if you don't feel like you're on the right path — because the world is constantly changing.”
-Zoe

Why LCC?

Zoe selected LCC for its accessibility and cost-effectiveness compared to universities, which allowed her to begin her college journey without the overwhelming financial burden.

The supportive community at LCC also influenced her decision, providing a sense of security as she ventures into the next phase of her academic path.

WHAT DRIVES ZOE

- Having pride in her accomplishments
- Embracing the supportive environment of LCC
- Understanding and inspiring others through her work

Zoe found inspiration in her writing courses and in the support she received at LCC's Center for Accessible Resources, which provided critical accommodations and support for her success. Additionally, she is a member of the Neurodivergent Student Union, which fosters a welcoming and inclusive environment for students. Zoe credits these experiences with helping her grow and explore new fields.
